

Dumfriesshire and Galloway Natural History and Antiquarian Society
Lecture Programme 2020–21

9 October 2020

Dr Fiona Edmonds, Reader in Regional History, Lancaster University

Gaelic influence in the Northumbrian kingdom

23 October 2020

Crystal Maw, Royal Society for the Protection of Birds

The secret life of cowpats

6 November 2020

John Anstey, Trustee Eastriggs and Gretna Heritage Group

The story of the navvies and how they changed the landscape of Cumbria and south-west Scotland

20 November 2020

Alasdair Macdonald, Department of Genealogical Studies, Strathclyde University

The Scottish DNA Project – exploring our past using genetics

4 December 2020

James Williams Lecture

Dr Tess Machling, archaeologist and Roland Williamson, museum replica maker

Talking torcs: the crafting of Iron Age gold

15 January 2021

Andrew Nicholson, Regional Archaeologist, Dumfries and Galloway Council

Addenda Antiquaria – Archaeological finds from Dumfries and Galloway in the last decade

29 January 2021

Stephen Rutt, amateur naturalist and prize-winning author

Wintering – nature writing and creative responses to birds

12 February 2021

Judith Hewitt, Manager of The Devil's Porridge Museum

Women and work at HM Factory Gretna in World War One

26 February 2021

Members Night

Martin Brann, Historic Environment Scotland

Scheduled monument condition monitoring in Dumfries and Galloway

12 March 2021

Thomas Rees, Rathmell Archaeology Ltd

Community Archaeology for All – our impact so far and the future of Can You Dig It

27 March 2021

Dr Peter Garson, Convenor, Carstramon Wood Nature Reserve, Scottish Wildlife Trust

There's more to Carstramon Wood than the bluebells!